

War affected children, innocence killed in bud

Creativity despite suffering!!!

Reported by Fatima RabeH

Lost by all its shapes in the Grand country, then fall into the arms of stranger to resort to a second country linked to unknown and stunting, ignorance, poverty and disease determination, is part of the cruel suffering unlimited or all These are the harsh conditions faced by children of war comes at a time when making and intergovernmental efforts to interest the status of children in the country, while the latter drawing up plans in order to reduce the proportion of educational wastage.

UN Sponsoring Children's Fund in Sudan -UNICEF- knocked on the suffering of those children are malnourished and farness from education in all its forms.

UNICEF has prepared a joint report with the Ministry of Education and published within the last month revealed it for the inability of more than three million children aged between 5-13 years of receiving education in schools as figures representing 51.1% of the children of Sudan 'According to the study, which figured such as the European Union in Khartoum, that most children are not enrolled education living in areas of war and conflict in rural areas and locations of nomads also revealed that about 560.96 exposed children to the risk of leakage to leave the classroom because of economic factors and some, especially in societies that are not eager to teach social norms and indicates General to report to the increasing conflicts and political unrest in the Middle East and North Africa without enrollment of more than 13 million children in school.

(It is apparently clear that a severe crisis for children in Sudan. Where children in some cases 70% or more of new cases of displacement in Darfur, and among southerners Sudanese who are looking for shelters in several states across the country) UNICEF 2014, and between the preparation of the reports in also it seems to flight time to prepare the reports which the public a place in which many things under the bridge, especially the stability of relative security in some war zones such as Darfur, but the report by UNICEF for the same year stressed that the challenges still lie in front of the project, which was launched five years ago, to discuss the situation children's education, and warned that the ongoing war is one of the biggest challenges for the education of children the human rights activist and civil expert Osman Hussein Abu Bakr and political analyst Hussein Krashoom all indicate in previously local media that there are three cases for the children of war- divided between non- escorts to their families so that it is in charge of their people were weak , as if under escort women and a class of children missing but can the catch their parents , adding both Osman and Krashoom that these groups find attention and care from UNICEF and stresses the UN on the government regardless of the need to stop the armed conflict in Sudan , confirmed that the largest proportion of children deprived of education found in war zones.

Creativity despite suffering!!!

Apart from the pessimistic outlook for the future of children, wars and conflicts have cross-official Abu Shouk camp for displaced people in North Darfur, Ibrahim Khalil Sheikh religion that they are doing their best to provide the best care for children since their arrival to the camp in 2004 where it was set up a specialized psychiatric hospital for those who are older than the kids, and the establishment of kindergartens and 37 retreat, and it grew to screeds we have been providing care factors so as not to go homeless pointing to the existence of national organizations concerned with childhood in areas where living conditions of war and that there is a special interest in children with special needs in coordination with the Ministry of Social Welfare confirming the presence of talented children and became creative in the fields of art, theater and participate in events that are held in honor of the happy occasions.

And back human rights activist Osman Hussein Abu Bakr, a secretary-general of the Organization of Almassar organization interested in the affairs of Bedouin children to official UN efforts represented by the UNICEF to address the situation of war-affected and to provide the necessary aids.

There are dangers besetting some children, including trafficking in human beings where we have to UNICEF daunting task when you are inflicting missing loved ones and that may take a long time and that time factor may expose them to trafficking and seriousness in the sale of live tissue is one of the kinds of inhumane crimes are active in east-central Africa, or that children are exposed Upholstery this task the responsible authorities what makes kids arduous, difficult and remains the overwhelming concern is that the resettlement of the children of war in some foreign countries and not far from Zakrh what happened in 1994 when he was resettled children Kakuma Refugee Camp, Kenya, where they were resettled in the West, and knew in the media US children who are missing Sudanese.
